Characteristics of the student body

Students at Our Lady of the Sacred Heart School come from diverse backgrounds. Approximately 33% of students speak a language other than English at home. A distinguishing characteristic of the multicultural nature of our school is the richness of cultures. Students live this out through acceptance and tolerance of others and a celebration of the existing cultures within our school community. As a Catholic community we embrace our heritage and shared cultures in the light of Gospel Values. Many students come from homes and families where education is highly regarded and valued. Students are encouraged and supported to achieve their full potential. The majority of our students participate in various extra-curricular activities. These activities include sport, music and cultural pursuits. A large number of students participate in specific cultural and language education schools on the weekend.

While it has been stated that our school is multicultural in nature, the majority of students have Anglo-Saxon heritage with English as their first language. Many of these students reside in the affluent centenary suburbs of western Brisbane where both of their parents work, often in professional occupations. The diversity of our school is continuing with a large number of students now residing in the Forest Lake and Richlands catchment areas.

Our distinctive curriculum offerings

The curriculum taught follows syllabus documents written by the Australian Curriculum Assessment and Reporting Authority and Brisbane Catholic Education's Religious Education. In 2015 the school continued to implement the Australian Curriculum.

The staff prepare School Based Curriculum documents appropriate for our school. They are drawn from the syllabus documents and guide teaching and learning at Our Lady of the Sacred Heart.

The School endeavours to modify its teaching programs in order for students to achieve outcomes. In doing this, it is recognised that students have different rates of learning, different styles of learning, different cultures, different prior learning and different motivations.

The teaching staff at OLSH have continued their commitment to cater for the varying academic ranges and needs of the students.

2015 saw the introduction of enhancement teachers into the school. This saw three experienced teachers collaboratively working with class teachers to enhance the classroom learning. Experienced school officers support teacher and students both within the classroom and in individual situations.

In 2015 OLSH once again entered the Opti-MINDS competition with students achieving outstanding results.

OLSH has a specialist Art teacher, Music teacher, Drama teacher and Physical Education teacher who teach each class individually each week. A religious sister works in our school as our School Welfare Worker.

How Information and Communication Technologies are used to assist learning

At Our Lady of the Sacred Heart, we believe that in the natural Learning and Teaching process. Technology is not something that is outside or dominates this process but is an integral tool that supports and enhances Learning and Teaching within and outside the School community. For teachers, using ICLT is a necessary part of enacting the whole curriculum - during planning, implementation, assessment and reporting. Our Lady of the Sacred Heart School uses ICLT as an integral tool to engage students in understanding concepts and processes in more depth and to enable them to demonstrate their understanding, fit classroom learning to particular student needs and interests, and to extend the reach of the classroom across space and time

Social climate inclusive of pastoral care and our response to bullying

Children learn best when their spiritual, physical, social and emotional needs are met. Pastoral Care permeates all aspects of school life and expresses itself in quality relationships and the sense of belonging to our school community. Sister Sue Walpole is our School Pastoral Worker. She is available to both students and parents in a personally supportive and confidential way. Sr Sue organizes and presents Virtues Assemblies in order to teach the children about Christian virtues in a creative and fun-filled way. Our school implements the "Friendly Schools" program and "Beating Bully Bulldozer" program as a preventive to response to bullying.

Parent, student and teacher satisfaction with the school

The indication of parent, student and teachers satisfaction can be gauged by the public perception of the school. OLSH School is held in high regard within the community of schools in this area of Brisbane. The school engages the school community in our annual renewal process which allows parents and teachers to review components of school operations. Feedback is generally positive which reflects the professionalism and commitment of the staff of the school.
